CLIENT CONTENT PLAYBOOK

HIGH-IMPACT CONTENT PLAYBOOK

12 Reels + 8 eye-catching feed posts designed for phone-first production, strong hooks, and B2B authority.

ALTIVON GLOBAL

Prepared by Evolix Studio | September 2026

Purpose: Make Altivon look like a modern ingredient and sourcing media brand without requiring a studio, camera crew, or complex setups. Altivon can capture almost everything at home, in an office, at a nearby market, or during normal business activity.

CORE PRINCIPLE Post fewer weak assets and more ideas that deserve attention. The phone footage can be simple; the hook, script, edit and visual hierarchy must do the heavy lifting.

CONTENTS

What this playbook contains

01	Strategy & content model	How the new plan keeps the B2B foundation but adds broader reach.
02	Phone-first production system	Phone setup, lighting, audio, props, locations, shot bank and one-day filming.
03	12 Reel production sheets	Exact hooks, scripts, shots, edit direction, captions, cover text and posting notes.
04	8 non-Reel feed assets	Static posters and carousels designed to stop the scroll and earn saves/shares.
05	Monthly publishing plan	A practical 4-week schedule and repurposing workflow.
06	Posting & optimisation checklist	Covers, captions, CTAs, comments, early performance and iteration.
07	Measurement dashboard	What to track beyond views and followers.
08	Claims & approval rules	How to keep technical/export claims safe and accurate.

01 STRATEGY

From a content calendar to a high-impact content system

The original Altivon calendar correctly focused on B2B trust: product intelligence, quality/proof, buyer education, founder/process, and country/conversion content. This playbook keeps those commercial pillars, but changes the creative packaging so more posts can reach people beyond an immediate buyer audience.

Original strength	Qualified attention, buyer education, documentation, specifications, samples, packaging and sourcing trust.
Creative change	Use curiosity, transformation, founder POV, satisfying product visuals, comparisons and business-story formats.
Production rule	Everything should be shootable with a phone, a table, window light, basic props and normal day-to-day locations.
Feed mix	12 Reels + 8 non-Reel posts per month. Reels create discovery; static/carousel content creates saves, shares and authority.
Success mindset	No post is guaranteed to go viral. The target is to publish only ideas with a large potential audience and a clear reason to watch, save, share or follow.

The three jobs of Altivon content

REACH	AUTHORITY	CONVERSION
Make people stop even if they are not currently importing. Use curiosity, transformation, business reality, visual satisfaction and surprise.	Show that Altivon understands specifications, buyer questions, documentation, supplier evaluation and real B2B process.	Make relevant viewers comfortable asking for specifications, samples, packaging options and quotations.

Content mix by role

- 5 Reach-first Reels: transformation, satisfying visuals, curiosity and highly relatable business hooks.
- 4 Authority Reels: buyer requirements, sample process, supplier evaluation and product comparison.
- 3 Founder/entrepreneurship Reels: the journey of building an export business and what people misunderstand about B2B.
- 4 Static posters: bold, minimal statements designed to stop the scroll.
- 4 Carousels: practical checklists and visual explainers designed for saves and shares.

BRAND BEHAVIOUR Altivon should feel like the account explaining the hidden business behind ingredients and international sourcing - not an account repeatedly saying “we export moringa and banana powder.”

How Altivon can capture everything on a phone

Phone	Any recent smartphone. Use the rear camera whenever possible. Clean the lens before every session.
Format	Vertical 9:16 for Reels. Record 4K/30fps where storage allows; use 60fps only for pours or slow motion.
Light	Stand beside a large window. Turn OFF harsh ceiling lights if they create mixed colour. Use a white wall/chart paper as a reflector.
Audio	For talking-head clips, record in the quietest room. A wired or clip-on lav mic is optional. Use voice-over if audio is poor.
Background	Plain wall, organised desk, neutral curtain, dining table, kitchen counter, balcony, terrace, nearby market or normal office environment.
Editing	CapCut/Premiere/DaVinci: tight cuts, subtitles, text highlights, subtle sound effects, product close-ups, zooms and pattern interrupts.

Recommended shooting kit

- Phone + basic tripod or phone stand.
- White chart paper and black/dark green chart paper for product backgrounds.
- 2 transparent bowls/jars, 1 clean spoon, 1 small kitchen scale if available.
- Printed pages: mock specification sheet, packaging checklist, sample label, quotation sheet.
- Laptop with a clean world map / email / spreadsheet screen prepared before filming.
- Moringa powder sample, banana powder sample, banana fruit, pouch/box/packing tape.
- Optional: clip-on lav mic and small LED light; neither is mandatory.

The one-day shot bank

EFFICIENCY The founder should NOT shoot 12 separate Reels from scratch. Capture a reusable bank of 40-60 short clips in one 2-3 hour session, then Evolix can build multiple narratives from the same material.

Shot family	Capture these clips
Founder A-roll	10-15 talking clips: seated at desk, standing by wall, holding sample, speaking while walking.
Hands/product	Open pouch, scoop powder, pour powder, compare bowls, label bag, seal pouch, weigh sample.
Desk/business	Typing, calculator, reading printed spec, circling a price, responding to a message, checking laptop map.
Lifestyle/process	Walking out of room, packing a parcel, carrying a small box, market/road exterior, entering workspace.
Macro textures	Powder surface, spoon dragging through powder, powder falling, jar filling, close-up under side light.

Props/screens	Banana fruit, printed checklist, mock buyer message, world map, spreadsheet, packaging options.

Simple visual quality rules

1. Shoot each product action 2-3 times so the editor has options.
2. Keep clips short: 2-5 seconds for B-roll, 10-25 seconds for talking clips.
3. Leave one second of silence before and after speaking; it makes editing easier.
4. Do not use digital zoom while recording. Move the phone closer instead.
5. Keep product surfaces clean. Remove clutter, random bottles, cables and household distractions from frame.
6. Record one safe version and one experimental version of every important hook.
7. Never show confidential buyer data, real quotations, certificates or personal contact details unless specifically approved.

03 REEL 01

THE INGREDIENT THAT TRAVELS

Content type	Reach + brand positioning
Primary goal	Turn a simple moringa sample into a global story. The viewer should understand that Altivon sits between Indian supply and international product businesses.
Target duration	18-24 sec
Difficulty	Easy
Location	Home desk + window + laptop
Props	Moringa leaf if available OR moringa powder, clear jar, pouch, laptop/map, printed sheet.
Opening hook	“Something this small can travel thousands of kilometres.”
Cover text	FROM INDIA → THE WORLD

Exact script

“Something this small can travel thousands of kilometres. A product can begin with a farm in India and eventually become an ingredient used by a business in another country. But the journey is not only about shipping. Buyers care about specification, consistency, documents and packaging. That is the world Altivon is being built around: connecting Indian products with global requirements.”

How to shoot it - shot by shot

Time	Shot	What to film	Voice / on-screen text
0:00-0:02	Hook	Hold leaf/sample extremely close to camera.	ON SCREEN: “This can travel thousands of kilometres.”
0:02-0:05	Product	Pour a small amount of moringa powder into a clean bowl.	VO: “A product can begin with a farm in India…”
0:05-0:08	Map	Laptop map; point from India toward Europe/target market.	VO: “…and become an ingredient used by a business in another country.”
0:08-0:13	Process montage	Fast cuts: spec sheet, jar, pouch, label, laptop.	TEXT: SPECIFICATION / CONSISTENCY / DOCUMENTS / PACKAGING
0:13-0:20	Founder	Founder at desk, direct to camera.	“That is the world Altivon is being built around.”
0:20-0:23	End frame	Product + logo/brand text.	ALTIVON GLOBAL | India → Global Markets

THE INGREDIENT THAT TRAVELS - finishing sheet

Edit direction

Cut every 1.5-2.5 seconds. Add a low, modern beat; use one soft whoosh on the map transition. Subtitle every spoken line. Keep logo only at the end.

Caption starter

A product may begin locally, but the buyer expectation is global. Altivon is building around the details that matter between source and shipment: product understanding, specification, documentation, packaging and communication.

CTA + posting overview

CTA	Follow Altivon for the business behind ingredients and global sourcing.
Posting note	Best as an introductory/pinned Reel. Do not lead with a sales CTA. Its job is profile positioning and follows.

Why this content exists

This is a reach-first asset. The opening should be understandable to someone who has never heard of Altivon; branding comes after the idea earns attention.

Raw footage checklist for Altivon

- Record the opening hook twice: one calm version and one higher-energy version.
- Send every B-roll clip in original quality, including 1-2 seconds before and after the action.
- Capture one clean vertical cover frame with space for headline text.
- Record 2 extra close-ups of the product/prop even if they are not in the main shot list.
- If any technical term is spoken, send Evolix the approved source/specification that supports it.

Repurpose after publishing

- Turn the strongest line from “THE INGREDIENT THAT TRAVELS” into a one-slide Story quote and add a poll/question.
- Convert the business insight into a short LinkedIn text post with a founder point of view.
- If comments contain a repeated question, use that exact question as the hook for a follow-up Reel.
- If the Reel gets strong saves/shares, build a carousel that explains the same topic in more depth.

DO NOT Do not add unverified certifications, exact technical values, buyer names, fake shipment claims or footage that implies Altivon owns facilities it does not own. Keep the creative strong and the claims conservative.

03 REEL 02

BANANA → INGREDIENT

Content type	Reach + product education
Primary goal	Use a familiar banana to create a transformation story that a broad audience can understand.
Target duration	15-20 sec
Difficulty	Easy
Location	Kitchen/dining table
Props	Banana fruit, banana powder, bowl, spoon, smoothie glass or baking bowl.
Opening hook	“A banana can become much more than a banana.”
Cover text	BANANA ≠ JUST FRUIT

Exact script

“A banana can become much more than a banana. In B2B, the fruit can be processed into powder and then considered as an ingredient for different food applications. The important question is not only ‘what is the product?’ It is ‘what does the buyer need it to do?’ That requirement shapes the conversation around grade, packaging and specification.”

How to shoot it - shot by shot

Time	Shot	What to film	Voice / on-screen text
0:00-0:02	Hook	Hold banana in frame, then cover lens with it.	TEXT: “A banana can become much more than a banana.”
0:02-0:05	Reveal	Pull banana away; cut to bowl of banana powder.	VO begins.
0:05-0:10	Applications	Powder beside smoothie glass / baking bowl.	TEXT: BAKERY / BEVERAGE / NUTRITION*
0:10-0:15	Founder or hand	Point to handwritten words: grade / pack / spec.	“What does the buyer need it to do?”
0:15-0:19	End	Top-down product shot.	ALTIVON GLOBAL | Ingredient sourcing explained

BANANA → INGREDIENT - finishing sheet

Edit direction

Use a clean cover-the-lens transition from banana to powder. Keep applications illustrative; add an asterisk if Altivon has not verified a specific commercial application claim.

Caption starter

The same raw product can enter a very different B2B conversation once the buyer is thinking in applications, specifications and packaging.

CTA + posting overview

CTA	Comment with the application you would want to understand next.
Posting note	Good discovery Reel. Encourage comments rather than quotations.

Why this content exists

This is a reach-first asset. The opening should be understandable to someone who has never heard of Altivon; branding comes after the idea earns attention.

Raw footage checklist for Altivon

- Record the opening hook twice: one calm version and one higher-energy version.
- Send every B-roll clip in original quality, including 1-2 seconds before and after the action.
- Capture one clean vertical cover frame with space for headline text.
- Record 2 extra close-ups of the product/prop even if they are not in the main shot list.
- If any technical term is spoken, send Evolix the approved source/specification that supports it.

Repurpose after publishing

- Turn the strongest line from “BANANA → INGREDIENT” into a one-slide Story quote and add a poll/question.
- Convert the business insight into a short LinkedIn text post with a founder point of view.
- If comments contain a repeated question, use that exact question as the hook for a follow-up Reel.
- If the Reel gets strong saves/shares, build a carousel that explains the same topic in more depth.

DO NOT Do not add unverified certifications, exact technical values, buyer names, fake shipment claims or footage that implies Altivon owns facilities it does not own. Keep the creative strong and the claims conservative.

03 REEL 03

WHAT INTERNATIONAL BUYERS ACTUALLY ASK

Content type	Authority + shareable founder POV
Primary goal	Contrast amateur sales language with professional procurement questions.
Target duration	20-28 sec
Difficulty	Easy
Location	Founder at desk
Props	Printed spec sheet, pouch, laptop.
Opening hook	“Serious buyers do not ask me: ‘Bro, best quality?’”
Cover text	BUYERS DON’T ASK “BEST QUALITY?”

Exact script

“Serious buyers do not ask me: ‘Bro, best quality?’ They ask: What is the specification? What packaging is available? What documents can you provide? What is the MOQ? What is the lead time? B2B buyers are not buying a caption. They are buying a repeatable requirement. That is why ‘best quality’ is never enough by itself.”

How to shoot it - shot by shot

Time	Shot	What to film	Voice / on-screen text
0:00-0:03	Founder hook	Direct-to-camera. Slight smile.	“Serious buyers do not ask me: Bro, best quality?”
0:03-0:12	Rapid list	Same founder angle with jump cuts OR text over product B-roll.	SPECIFICATION / PACKAGING / DOCUMENTS / MOQ / LEAD TIME
0:12-0:20	Founder	Lean slightly closer to camera.	“B2B buyers are not buying a caption…”
0:20-0:25	End	Close-up of spec sheet + product.	TEXT: PROOF > PROMISES

WHAT INTERNATIONAL BUYERS ACTUALLY ASK - finishing sheet

Edit direction

Use fast text pops with subtle click sounds. Remove pauses. Keep it conversational, not corporate.

Caption starter

“Best quality” is a claim. Procurement needs requirements that can be discussed, checked and repeated.

CTA + posting overview

CTA	Save this if you are building a B2B/export business.
Posting note	High share potential among exporters and founders; post on LinkedIn too with a more professional caption.

Why this content exists

This is an authority/conversion asset. Its job is to make the viewer trust Altivon’s understanding of B2B requirements and take one next action.

Raw footage checklist for Altivon

- Record the opening hook twice: one calm version and one higher-energy version.
- Send every B-roll clip in original quality, including 1-2 seconds before and after the action.
- Capture one clean vertical cover frame with space for headline text.
- Record 2 extra close-ups of the product/prop even if they are not in the main shot list.
- If any technical term is spoken, send Evolix the approved source/specification that supports it.

Repurpose after publishing

- Turn the strongest line from “WHAT INTERNATIONAL BUYERS ACTUALLY ASK” into a one-slide Story quote and add a poll/question.
- Convert the business insight into a short LinkedIn text post with a founder point of view.
- If comments contain a repeated question, use that exact question as the hook for a follow-up Reel.
- If the Reel gets strong saves/shares, build a carousel that explains the same topic in more depth.

DO NOT Do not add unverified certifications, exact technical values, buyer names, fake shipment claims or footage that implies Altivon owns facilities it does not own. Keep the creative strong and the claims conservative.

03 REEL 04

CAN YOU TELL THE DIFFERENCE?

Content type	Reach + product authority
Primary goal	Create curiosity with two visually similar powders while teaching that appearance alone is not enough.
Target duration	14-18 sec
Difficulty	Easy
Location	Table beside window
Props	Two bowls/jars, powder samples or same powder under different lighting if only one verified sample is available.
Opening hook	“These can look similar. A buyer still would not evaluate them only by appearance.”
Cover text	CAN YOU TELL THE DIFFERENCE?

Exact script

“These can look similar. But a serious buyer would not evaluate an ingredient only by colour in a video. The real discussion can include specification, moisture, mesh size, consistency, testing and packaging. Appearance starts the conversation. Evidence completes it.”

How to shoot it - shot by shot

Time	Shot	What to film	Voice / on-screen text
0:00-0:03	Comparison	Two bowls marked A and B.	TEXT: “A or B?”
0:03-0:07	Macro	Phone close-up of each powder.	TEXT: “Looks are only one signal.”
0:07-0:13	Checklist	Hand writes / points: spec, moisture, mesh, tests.	VO: “The real discussion can include…”
0:13-0:17	End	Both bowls in frame.	TEXT: APPEARANCE STARTS. EVIDENCE COMPLETES.

CAN YOU TELL THE DIFFERENCE? - finishing sheet

Edit direction

Do not imply one sample is inferior unless Altivon has verified it. The power of the Reel is the principle, not a fake quality test.

Caption starter

Product appearance matters, but it is not a substitute for a specification and verified evidence.

CTA + posting overview

CTA	Which parameter would you check first?
Posting note	Ask a question in the caption to drive comments.

Why this content exists

This is a reach-first asset. The opening should be understandable to someone who has never heard of Altivon; branding comes after the idea earns attention.

Raw footage checklist for Altivon

- Record the opening hook twice: one calm version and one higher-energy version.
- Send every B-roll clip in original quality, including 1-2 seconds before and after the action.
- Capture one clean vertical cover frame with space for headline text.
- Record 2 extra close-ups of the product/prop even if they are not in the main shot list.
- If any technical term is spoken, send Evolix the approved source/specification that supports it.

Repurpose after publishing

- Turn the strongest line from “CAN YOU TELL THE DIFFERENCE?” into a one-slide Story quote and add a poll/question.
- Convert the business insight into a short LinkedIn text post with a founder point of view.
- If comments contain a repeated question, use that exact question as the hook for a follow-up Reel.
- If the Reel gets strong saves/shares, build a carousel that explains the same topic in more depth.

DO NOT Do not add unverified certifications, exact technical values, buyer names, fake shipment claims or footage that implies Altivon owns facilities it does not own. Keep the creative strong and the claims conservative.

03 REEL 05

POV: YOU STARTED AN EXPORT BUSINESS

Content type	Reach + founder relatability
Primary goal	Make export entrepreneurship entertaining and relatable without losing brand credibility.
Target duration	12-18 sec
Difficulty	Easy
Location	Home/office
Props	Laptop, papers, calculator, samples, phone.
Opening hook	“POV: somebody told you foreign clients pay in dollars.”
Cover text	POV: YOU STARTED EXPORTING

Exact script

No voice-over required. On-screen sequence: “POV: somebody told you foreign clients pay in dollars.” → “You:” [confident] → 20 browser tabs → specifications → packaging → samples → follow-ups → calculator → waiting for reply → “Still building.”

How to shoot it - shot by shot

Time	Shot	What to film	Voice / on-screen text
0:00-0:02	Hook	Founder smiling confidently at laptop.	TEXT: “POV: somebody told you foreign clients pay in dollars.”
0:02-0:05	Chaos 1	Laptop with many tabs / quick typing.	TEXT: “Research”
0:05-0:08	Chaos 2	Papers + calculator + product.	TEXT: “Specs. Samples. Packaging.”
0:08-0:12	Chaos 3	Founder checking phone repeatedly.	TEXT: “Following up…”
0:12-0:16	End	Founder back to work.	TEXT: “Still building.”

POV: YOU STARTED AN EXPORT BUSINESS - finishing sheet

Edit direction

Use a currently suitable comedic/trending audio if licensed/available in-app. Cuts should land on beats.

Caption starter

The glamorous part: international business. The real part: details, follow-ups and consistency.

CTA + posting overview

CTA	Tag someone building an export business.
Posting note	This is a reach asset, not a sales asset. Keep the caption light.

Why this content exists

This is a reach-first asset. The opening should be understandable to someone who has never heard of Altivon; branding comes after the idea earns attention.

Raw footage checklist for Altivon

- Record the opening hook twice: one calm version and one higher-energy version.
- Send every B-roll clip in original quality, including 1-2 seconds before and after the action.
- Capture one clean vertical cover frame with space for headline text.
- Record 2 extra close-ups of the product/prop even if they are not in the main shot list.
- If any technical term is spoken, send Evolix the approved source/specification that supports it.

Repurpose after publishing

- Turn the strongest line from “POV: YOU STARTED AN EXPORT BUSINESS” into a one-slide Story quote and add a poll/question.
- Convert the business insight into a short LinkedIn text post with a founder point of view.
- If comments contain a repeated question, use that exact question as the hook for a follow-up Reel.
- If the Reel gets strong saves/shares, build a carousel that explains the same topic in more depth.

DO NOT Do not add unverified certifications, exact technical values, buyer names, fake shipment claims or footage that implies Altivon owns facilities it does not own. Keep the creative strong and the claims conservative.

03 REEL 06

WHAT GOES INTO A BUYER SAMPLE PACK?

Content type	Authority + conversion
Primary goal	Show process discipline using a simple top-down packing demonstration.
Target duration	20-26 sec
Difficulty	Easy
Location	Dining table / desk
Props	Sample pouch, label, printed product sheet, document list, business card/contact sheet, small box.
Opening hook	“A sample is not just a pouch of powder.”
Cover text	A SAMPLE IS NOT JUST PRODUCT

Exact script

“A sample is not just a pouch of powder. It is the buyer’s first physical experience with your company. I would want the product clearly labelled, the basic specification easy to understand, the available documentation clear, packaging information ready, and the contact/follow-up process simple. The sample should reduce questions, not create more of them.”

How to shoot it - shot by shot

Time	Shot	What to film	Voice / on-screen text
0:00-0:02	Hook	Empty table. Drop sample pouch into frame.	TEXT: “A sample is not just product.”
0:02-0:10	Build pack	Add label, product sheet, document list one by one.	VO explains each item.
0:10-0:16	Pack	Place everything in box / pouch.	TEXT: CLEAR / ORGANISED / TRACEABLE
0:16-0:23	Founder/hand	Close box; point to Altivon name.	“The sample should reduce questions, not create more.”

WHAT GOES INTO A BUYER SAMPLE PACK? - finishing sheet

Edit direction

Top-down shot. Keep hands neat and movements deliberate. Use crisp paper sounds and minimal music.

Caption starter

Sampling is part product, part communication. A clear sample process can make the next buyer conversation easier.

CTA + posting overview

CTA	DM “SAMPLE” to discuss current sample options.
Posting note	Conversion-oriented. Only use this CTA if Altivon is ready to handle sample inquiries quickly.

Why this content exists

This is an authority/conversion asset. Its job is to make the viewer trust Altivon’s understanding of B2B requirements and take one next action.

Raw footage checklist for Altivon

- Record the opening hook twice: one calm version and one higher-energy version.
- Send every B-roll clip in original quality, including 1-2 seconds before and after the action.
- Capture one clean vertical cover frame with space for headline text.
- Record 2 extra close-ups of the product/prop even if they are not in the main shot list.
- If any technical term is spoken, send Evolix the approved source/specification that supports it.

Repurpose after publishing

- Turn the strongest line from “WHAT GOES INTO A BUYER SAMPLE PACK?” into a one-slide Story quote and add a poll/question.
- Convert the business insight into a short LinkedIn text post with a founder point of view.
- If comments contain a repeated question, use that exact question as the hook for a follow-up Reel.
- If the Reel gets strong saves/shares, build a carousel that explains the same topic in more depth.

DO NOT Do not add unverified certifications, exact technical values, buyer names, fake shipment claims or footage that implies Altivon owns facilities it does not own. Keep the creative strong and the claims conservative.

03 REEL 07

THE CHEAPEST SUPPLIER CAN COST MORE

Content type	Authority + shareable procurement insight
Primary goal	Use a simple price comparison to explain why procurement is about more than unit price.
Target duration	18-24 sec
Difficulty	Easy
Location	Desk
Props	Three handwritten price cards, calculator, product pouch.
Opening hook	“Would you automatically choose the cheapest supplier?”
Cover text	CHEAPEST ≠ LOWEST COST

Exact script

“Would you automatically choose the cheapest supplier? Maybe. But first ask what happens if the material is inconsistent, documents are missing, packaging needs to be redone, or the lead time is unreliable. Procurement is rarely one number. Price matters, but risk, consistency and execution matter too.”

How to shoot it - shot by shot

Time	Shot	What to film	Voice / on-screen text
0:00-0:03	Hook	Three price cards. Circle the lowest.	“Would you automatically choose the cheapest supplier?”
0:03-0:10	Risk reveal	Flip cards: inconsistency / documents / packaging / delay.	VO explains.
0:10-0:17	Calculator	Type numbers; shake head slightly.	TEXT: UNIT PRICE ≠ TOTAL COST
0:17-0:22	End	Product + checklist.	TEXT: BUY THE REQUIREMENT, NOT ONLY THE PRICE

THE CHEAPEST SUPPLIER CAN COST MORE - finishing sheet

Edit direction

Do not use real supplier prices unless approved. Use clearly illustrative numbers or no numbers at all.

Caption starter

A low unit price can still create a high operational cost. Professional sourcing looks beyond the first number.

CTA + posting overview

CTA	Save this for your next supplier comparison.
Posting note	Strong LinkedIn cross-post; excellent carousel companion later.

Why this content exists

This is an authority/conversion asset. Its job is to make the viewer trust Altivon's understanding of B2B requirements and take one next action.

Raw footage checklist for Altivon

- Record the opening hook twice: one calm version and one higher-energy version.
- Send every B-roll clip in original quality, including 1-2 seconds before and after the action.
- Capture one clean vertical cover frame with space for headline text.
- Record 2 extra close-ups of the product/prop even if they are not in the main shot list.
- If any technical term is spoken, send Evolix the approved source/specification that supports it.

Repurpose after publishing

- Turn the strongest line from "THE CHEAPEST SUPPLIER CAN COST MORE" into a one-slide Story quote and add a poll/question.
- Convert the business insight into a short LinkedIn text post with a founder point of view.
- If comments contain a repeated question, use that exact question as the hook for a follow-up Reel.
- If the Reel gets strong saves/shares, build a carousel that explains the same topic in more depth.

DO NOT Do not add unverified certifications, exact technical values, buyer names, fake shipment claims or footage that implies Altivon owns facilities it does not own. Keep the creative strong and the claims conservative.

03 REEL 08

ODDLY SATISFYING: MORINGA EDITION

Content type	Pure reach + sensory content
Primary goal	Create a visually satisfying Reel that requires almost no speaking and can reach outside the export niche.
Target duration	8-12 sec
Difficulty	Very easy
Location	Table next to window
Props	Moringa powder, spoon, glass jar, white/black card background.
Opening hook	Visual hook only: macro powder fall.
Cover text	MORINGA, UP CLOSE

Exact script

No voice-over. Optional tiny text sequence: “Moringa, up close.” → “Texture.” → “Flow.” → “Colour.” → “Specification matters beyond the screen.”

How to shoot it - shot by shot

Time	Shot	What to film	Voice / on-screen text
0:00-0:02	Macro pour	Very close slow pour into bowl.	TEXT: “Moringa, up close.”
0:02-0:04	Spoon	Drag spoon through surface.	No text or “Texture”
0:04-0:07	Jar	Fill clear jar from side angle.	“Flow”
0:07-0:10	Final macro	Static beauty close-up.	“What would you test beyond appearance?”

ODDLY SATISFYING: MORINGA EDITION - finishing sheet

Edit direction

Record in 60fps if possible. Slow to 70-80%. Use ASMR or subtle audio. Avoid heavy branding.

Caption starter

A satisfying view tells you what it looks like. A proper specification tells you what you are actually buying.

CTA + posting overview

CTA	Follow for more ingredient close-ups and buyer-side explainers.
Posting note	A reach post. Keep caption short and avoid a quotation CTA.

Why this content exists

This is a reach-first asset. The opening should be understandable to someone who has never heard of Altivon; branding comes after the idea earns attention.

Raw footage checklist for Altivon

- Record the opening hook twice: one calm version and one higher-energy version.
- Send every B-roll clip in original quality, including 1-2 seconds before and after the action.
- Capture one clean vertical cover frame with space for headline text.
- Record 2 extra close-ups of the product/prop even if they are not in the main shot list.
- If any technical term is spoken, send Evolix the approved source/specification that supports it.

Repurpose after publishing

- Turn the strongest line from “ODDLY SATISFYING: MORINGA EDITION” into a one-slide Story quote and add a poll/question.
- Convert the business insight into a short LinkedIn text post with a founder point of view.
- If comments contain a repeated question, use that exact question as the hook for a follow-up Reel.
- If the Reel gets strong saves/shares, build a carousel that explains the same topic in more depth.

DO NOT Do not add unverified certifications, exact technical values, buyer names, fake shipment claims or footage that implies Altivon owns facilities it does not own. Keep the creative strong and the claims conservative.

03 REEL 09

WHY I'M BUILDING ALTIVON

Content type	Founder trust + brand story
Primary goal	Humanise the company with a simple founder manifesto.
Target duration	25-35 sec
Difficulty	Easy
Location	Plain wall / desk / balcony
Props	Product sample optional.
Opening hook	"I do not want Altivon to become another company that only sends quotations."
Cover text	WHY ALTIVON EXISTS

Exact script

"I do not want Altivon to become another company that only sends quotations. India has strong products and capable suppliers, but international buyers also need clarity: what is the specification, what documentation is available, how will the product be packed, and who will communicate when something changes? I want Altivon to be known for making that sourcing conversation clearer. Because trust travels before the shipment does."

How to shoot it - shot by shot

Time	Shot	What to film	Voice / on-screen text
0:00-0:05	Founder hook	Direct-to-camera; no intro.	Hook line.
0:05-0:15	Founder + B-roll	Cut between face, sample, laptop, paperwork.	"India has strong products..."
0:15-0:27	Founder	Return to face; calm delivery.	"I want Altivon to be known..."
0:27-0:33	End	Founder closes sample box / looks to camera.	TEXT: "Trust travels before the shipment does."

WHY I'M BUILDING ALTIVON - finishing sheet

Edit direction

Use natural light. Minimal music. Leave slightly longer cuts than the other Reels to feel sincere.

Caption starter

Altivon is not trying to win attention with "best price, best quality." The ambition is to make the sourcing conversation clearer, more organised and more trustworthy.

CTA + posting overview

CTA	Follow the journey of building Altivon Global.
Posting note	Pin if founder delivery is strong. This should feel personal, not rehearsed.

Why this content exists

This is an authority/conversion asset. Its job is to make the viewer trust Altivon's understanding of B2B requirements and take one next action.

Raw footage checklist for Altivon

- Record the opening hook twice: one calm version and one higher-energy version.
- Send every B-roll clip in original quality, including 1-2 seconds before and after the action.
- Capture one clean vertical cover frame with space for headline text.
- Record 2 extra close-ups of the product/prop even if they are not in the main shot list.
- If any technical term is spoken, send Evolix the approved source/specification that supports it.

Repurpose after publishing

- Turn the strongest line from "WHY I'M BUILDING ALTIVON" into a one-slide Story quote and add a poll/question.
- Convert the business insight into a short LinkedIn text post with a founder point of view.
- If comments contain a repeated question, use that exact question as the hook for a follow-up Reel.
- If the Reel gets strong saves/shares, build a carousel that explains the same topic in more depth.

DO NOT Do not add unverified certifications, exact technical values, buyer names, fake shipment claims or footage that implies Altivon owns facilities it does not own. Keep the creative strong and the claims conservative.

03 REEL 10

YOU DO NOT NEED TO OWN THE FARM

Content type	Business-model education + reach
Primary goal	Explain merchant-exporter/sourcing logic in a simple whiteboard format without pretending Altivon owns production it does not own.
Target duration	18-26 sec
Difficulty	Easy
Location	Desk / white paper
Props	A4 sheet, marker, product pouch.
Opening hook	“You do not have to own the farm to build an export business.”
Cover text	HOW A MERCHANT EXPORTER WORKS

Exact script

“You do not have to own the farm to build an export business. A merchant exporter can work between qualified supply and buyer demand. The value is not pretending to manufacture everything. It is understanding the requirement, finding suitable supply, checking the agreed information, coordinating samples, packaging and commercial communication, and keeping the buyer informed. The model works only when the process is transparent.”

How to shoot it - shot by shot

Time	Shot	What to film	Voice / on-screen text
0:00-0:03	Hook	Founder writes FARM on left and BUYER on right.	Hook line.
0:03-0:08	Diagram	Draw arrow: PRODUCER → ALTIVON → BUYER.	VO explains merchant exporter.
0:08-0:18	Value stack	Write requirement / source / sample / pack / communicate.	TEXT follows marker.
0:18-0:24	End	Circle TRANSPARENT PROCESS.	“The model works only when the process is transparent.”

YOU DO NOT NEED TO OWN THE FARM - finishing sheet

Edit direction

Use top-down paper shot with speed ramps between writing actions.

Caption starter

A trading/export business does not create value by hiding the supply chain. It creates value by coordinating requirements and execution clearly.

CTA + posting overview

CTA	Share this with someone who misunderstands the exporter model.
Posting note	Good founder education piece. Keep claims aligned with Altivon's actual role.

Why this content exists

This is a reach-first asset. The opening should be understandable to someone who has never heard of Altivon; branding comes after the idea earns attention.

Raw footage checklist for Altivon

- Record the opening hook twice: one calm version and one higher-energy version.
- Send every B-roll clip in original quality, including 1-2 seconds before and after the action.
- Capture one clean vertical cover frame with space for headline text.
- Record 2 extra close-ups of the product/prop even if they are not in the main shot list.
- If any technical term is spoken, send Evolix the approved source/specification that supports it.

Repurpose after publishing

- Turn the strongest line from "YOU DO NOT NEED TO OWN THE FARM" into a one-slide Story quote and add a poll/question.
- Convert the business insight into a short LinkedIn text post with a founder point of view.
- If comments contain a repeated question, use that exact question as the hook for a follow-up Reel.
- If the Reel gets strong saves/shares, build a carousel that explains the same topic in more depth.

DO NOT Do not add unverified certifications, exact technical values, buyer names, fake shipment claims or footage that implies Altivon owns facilities it does not own. Keep the creative strong and the claims conservative.

03 REEL 11

GUESS THE INGREDIENT

Content type	Engagement + reach
Primary goal	Create a simple participation format that can become a recurring series.
Target duration	9-14 sec
Difficulty	Very easy
Location	Table beside window
Props	Banana powder OR moringa powder, bowl, spoon.
Opening hook	“You have 3 seconds. What is this?”
Cover text	GUESS THE INGREDIENT

Exact script

On-screen only: “You have 3 seconds. What is this?” → 3…2…1… → “BANANA POWDER” or “MORINGA POWDER” → “Most people see the fruit/leaf. B2B buyers see an ingredient requirement.”

How to shoot it - shot by shot

Time	Shot	What to film	Voice / on-screen text
0:00-0:03	Mystery	Extreme macro; no packaging visible.	TEXT: “You have 3 seconds. What is this?”
0:03-0:06	Countdown	Different macro angle.	3 / 2 / 1
0:06-0:09	Reveal	Pull back to product label / fruit.	TEXT: “BANANA POWDER”
0:09-0:13	Meaning	Product beside handwritten word APPLICATION.	“B2B buyers see an ingredient requirement.”

GUESS THE INGREDIENT - finishing sheet

Edit direction

Keep it fast. Do not reveal in the first frame. Use a small ticking/countdown sound.

Caption starter

Did you get it before the reveal? No cheating.

CTA + posting overview

CTA	Comment your answer before reading the comments.
Posting note	Post when you want comments/engagement. Repeat monthly with a new product or angle.

Why this content exists

This is a reach-first asset. The opening should be understandable to someone who has never heard of Altivon; branding comes after the idea earns attention.

Raw footage checklist for Altivon

- Record the opening hook twice: one calm version and one higher-energy version.
- Send every B-roll clip in original quality, including 1-2 seconds before and after the action.
- Capture one clean vertical cover frame with space for headline text.
- Record 2 extra close-ups of the product/prop even if they are not in the main shot list.
- If any technical term is spoken, send Evolix the approved source/specification that supports it.

Repurpose after publishing

- Turn the strongest line from “GUESS THE INGREDIENT” into a one-slide Story quote and add a poll/question.
- Convert the business insight into a short LinkedIn text post with a founder point of view.
- If comments contain a repeated question, use that exact question as the hook for a follow-up Reel.
- If the Reel gets strong saves/shares, build a carousel that explains the same topic in more depth.

DO NOT Do not add unverified certifications, exact technical values, buyer names, fake shipment claims or footage that implies Altivon owns facilities it does not own. Keep the creative strong and the claims conservative.

03 REEL 12

"SEND PRICE" IS THE BEGINNING

Content type	Authority + lead qualification
Primary goal	Teach prospective buyers and new exporters that a quotation requires context.
Target duration	22-30 sec
Difficulty	Easy
Location	Desk + phone/laptop
Props	Mock buyer message, notebook, calculator.
Opening hook	"New exporters think 'send price' means the order is almost done."
Cover text	"SEND PRICE." THEN WHAT?

Exact script

"New exporters think 'send price' means the order is almost done. Usually, it is the beginning. What quantity? Which destination? What specification? What packaging? Which documents? What shipping term? Do you need a sample first? Without the requirement, the cheapest-looking quotation can be meaningless. Good B2B pricing starts with the right questions."

How to shoot it - shot by shot

Time	Shot	What to film	Voice / on-screen text
0:00-0:03	Hook	Mock message on phone: "Please send price."	Hook line.
0:03-0:12	Questions	Hand writes each question quickly.	QUANTITY / DESTINATION / SPEC / PACK / DOCUMENTS
0:12-0:20	Founder	Direct to camera.	"Without the requirement..."
0:20-0:27	End	Notebook closes; calculator beside it.	TEXT: GOOD PRICING STARTS WITH GOOD QUESTIONS

“SEND PRICE” IS THE BEGINNING - finishing sheet

Edit direction

Blur or fake all contact names/numbers. Use a clearly staged message, not a real buyer chat.

Caption starter

A quotation is only useful when the requirement behind it is clear.

CTA + posting overview

CTA	For a serious inquiry, send product + quantity + destination + packaging requirement.
Posting note	Strong conversion Reel. Pair with a saved reply template for incoming DMs.

Why this content exists

This is an authority/conversion asset. Its job is to make the viewer trust Altivon’s understanding of B2B requirements and take one next action.

Raw footage checklist for Altivon

- Record the opening hook twice: one calm version and one higher-energy version.
- Send every B-roll clip in original quality, including 1-2 seconds before and after the action.
- Capture one clean vertical cover frame with space for headline text.
- Record 2 extra close-ups of the product/prop even if they are not in the main shot list.
- If any technical term is spoken, send Evolix the approved source/specification that supports it.

Repurpose after publishing

- Turn the strongest line from ““SEND PRICE” IS THE BEGINNING” into a one-slide Story quote and add a poll/question.
- Convert the business insight into a short LinkedIn text post with a founder point of view.
- If comments contain a repeated question, use that exact question as the hook for a follow-up Reel.
- If the Reel gets strong saves/shares, build a carousel that explains the same topic in more depth.

DO NOT Do not add unverified certifications, exact technical values, buyer names, fake shipment claims or footage that implies Altivon owns facilities it does not own. Keep the creative strong and the claims conservative.

8 eye-catching feed assets that do not rely on video

The feed should not become a wall of generic "exporter" posters. These assets use bold typography, diagrams, comparisons and practical checklists so the account earns saves and shares between Reels.

01. YOUR BUYER DOESN'T WANT "BEST QUALITY."

Format	STATIC POST
Purpose	Build authority with one hard-hitting statement.
On-post message	YOUR BUYER DOESN'T WANT "BEST QUALITY." / They want proof.
Design direction	Dark forest background. Giant ivory headline. Small gold sub-line: "Specification. Testing. Consistency. Traceability." Product powder texture in one corner.
Caption & CTA	Caption angle: Explain why procurement needs evidence, not adjectives. CTA: "Save this if you sell B2B."

02. THE ANATOMY OF AN EXPORT INQUIRY

Format	CAROUSEL
Purpose	Teach both buyers and exporters what makes an inquiry quotable.
On-post message	THE ANATOMY OF AN EXPORT INQUIRY / Price is only one field.
Design direction	Slide 1: "SEND PRICE." Slide 2: Quantity. Slide 3: Destination. Slide 4: Specification. Slide 5: Packaging. Slide 6: Documents. Slide 7: Shipping term. Slide 8: Sample. Final: "Good pricing starts with good questions."
Caption & CTA	Caption angle: Better inquiries create better quotations. CTA: Save/share with procurement or export teams.

03. INDIA → WORLD

Format	STATIC POST
Purpose	Build brand scale without making an unsupported export-volume claim.
On-post message	INDIA → WORLD / Small products. Global journeys.
Design direction	Minimal map line from India toward Europe/target regions. Small product bowl at India origin. Keep map conceptual; do not show countries Altivon does not actually serve as "current clients."

Caption & CTA	Caption angle: Discuss ambition and sourcing geography, not completed shipments unless verified.

04. MORINGA BUYER CHEAT SHEET

Format	CAROUSEL
Purpose	Turn technical buyer education into a saveable guide.
On-post message	MORINGA BUYER CHEAT SHEET / What to discuss before you buy.
Design direction	Slides: application / grade & specification / moisture & mesh (where applicable) / testing & documents / packaging / MOQ / sample process / final CTA. Use real Altivon data only where approved.
Caption & CTA	Caption angle: A checklist for opening a serious product conversation. CTA: Request the current specification/document list.

05. CHEAPEST ≠ LOWEST COST

Format	STATIC POST
Purpose	Create a shareable B2B principle.
On-post message	CHEAPEST ≠ LOWEST COST / Procurement is more than unit price.
Design direction	White or ivory background. Giant equation. Small footer: “Consistency • Documents • Packaging • Lead time • Communication.” No product photo needed.
Caption & CTA	Caption angle: Explain operational risk. CTA: “What is your #1 supplier-selection factor?”

06. BEFORE YOU REQUEST A SAMPLE

Format	CAROUSEL
Purpose	Reduce low-quality inquiries and make Altivon look organised.
On-post message	BEFORE YOU REQUEST A SAMPLE / Send these 5 things first.
Design direction	Slides: product / application / quantity estimate / destination / packaging requirement / special document requirement / contact details. Final: “A better brief creates a better sample discussion.”
Caption & CTA	Caption angle: Make sample conversations efficient. CTA: DM “SAMPLE” only if Altivon is prepared to respond.

07. BANANA → POWDER → APPLICATION

Format	CAROUSEL
Purpose	Use visual transformation as education.
On-post message	BANANA → POWDER → APPLICATION / The value does not end at the fruit.
Design direction	Slide 1 banana photo. Slide 2 powder. Slides 3-5 illustrative application categories only if verified. Slide 6 “Buyer requirement decides the grade conversation.” Slide 7 CTA.
Caption & CTA	Caption angle: The buyer is not only choosing a product; they are choosing fit for an application.

08. TRUST TRAVELS BEFORE THE SHIPMENT DOES.

Format	FOUNDER STATIC
Purpose	Humanise Altivon with one memorable line.
On-post message	TRUST TRAVELS BEFORE THE SHIPMENT DOES. / Founder manifesto.
Design direction	Simple founder portrait shot on phone against plain wall. Dark green overlay. Quote large. Small signature/name + ALTIVON GLOBAL. No list of services.
Caption & CTA	Caption angle: 100-150 word founder note about clear communication, specifications and process.

05 MONTHLY PLAN

4-week publishing overview

Week	Reel A	Reel B	Reel C	Non-Reel A	Non-Reel B
Week 1	Reel 01 - Ingredient that travels	Reel 03 - What buyers ask	Reel 11 - Guess the ingredient	Static 03 - India → World	Carousel 04 - Moringa buyer cheat sheet
Week 2	Reel 02 - Banana → ingredient	Reel 05 - POV exporter	Reel 06 - Sample pack	Static 01 - Buyers don't want "best quality"	Carousel 06 - Before you request a sample
Week 3	Reel 07 - Cheapest supplier	Reel 08 - Moringa satisfying	Reel 09 - Founder story	Static 05 - Cheapest ≠ lowest cost	Carousel 07 - Banana transformation
Week 4	Reel 10 - Merchant exporter model	Reel 04 - Powder comparison	Reel 12 - Send price	Static 08 - Founder manifesto	Carousel 02 - Anatomy of an inquiry

Recommended cadence

- 3 Reels per week. Space them so Evolix has time to review early performance instead of dumping content back-to-back.
- 2 non-Reel feed posts per week: usually one bold static and one carousel/checklist.
- Stories 3-5 days per week: behind-the-scenes, polls, question boxes, repost Reel comments, founder notes and current product availability updates.
- LinkedIn: cross-post the founder/authority Reels natively and convert the best carousels into document posts.
- Do not force 5 feed posts in a week if production quality drops. A strong 4-post week beats a weak 7-post week.

Repurposing rule

ONE IDEA → MULTIPLE ASSETS Example: Reel 07 "Cheapest supplier" can become a static equation, a LinkedIn founder post, a Story poll ("Price vs consistency?"), and a 6-slide procurement carousel. Reuse the idea; do not repost the exact same creative everywhere.

How Evolix should package every post

8. Hook first. Never start a Reel with a logo animation, “hello everyone,” or a long scene-setting introduction.
9. First frame must be understandable with sound off. Use 4-8 words of large text when the visual alone is not obvious.
10. Subtitles on all founder/talking Reels. Highlight only the key words; do not cover the entire screen with text.
11. One primary CTA per post: comment, save, follow, DM for sample, or request specification. Do not ask for all of them at once.
12. Cover design should be 3-7 words, not a paragraph. Keep the same type system and colour palette so the grid looks intentional.
13. Caption should add context rather than repeat the Reel word-for-word.
14. Answer relevant comments quickly. A thoughtful reply can extend the conversation and generate the next content idea.
15. If one Reel performs far above baseline, build a follow-up within 48-72 hours: Part 2, deeper explanation, reaction to comments, or a comparison version.

Caption formula

Line 1	A second hook or strong statement - not a greeting.
Lines 2-5	Add the business insight or context the video did not fully explain.
Proof line	Mention approved product/process facts only.
CTA	One action: comment, save, follow, DM keyword, or request current information.
Hashtags	Keep limited and relevant. The creative and topic should carry the post; hashtags are support, not strategy.

Cover system

- Reach Reels: bold curiosity covers - “GUESS THE INGREDIENT”, “BANANA ≠ JUST FRUIT”.
- Authority Reels: professional tension - “BUYERS DON’T ASK ‘BEST QUALITY?’”, “SEND PRICE. THEN WHAT?”
- Founder Reels: statement-led - “WHY ALTIVON EXISTS”, “YOU DON’T NEED TO OWN THE FARM”.
- Use deep green/navy, warm ivory and muted gold consistently; keep logos small.

07 MEASUREMENT

What to track every week

Stage	Track	Question
Reach	Non-follower reach, plays, unique accounts reached	Is the concept escaping the existing audience?
Retention	3-second hold, average watch time, completion/replay where available	Did the hook and pacing keep attention?
Engagement	Shares, saves, useful comments, profile visits	Did the idea create enough value to act?
Follower conversion	Follows from content / profile visits after strong posts	Does the account positioning make people want more?
Buyer intent	DMs, specification requests, sample requests, qualified email/website inquiries	Is attention translating into commercial conversations?
Sales progression	Quotations, follow-ups, negotiations and outcomes	Are leads moving after content creates the opening?

IMPORTANT Millions of views cannot be guaranteed organically. The controllable goal is to improve idea quality, hook strength, retention, shares, saves, profile conversion and qualified inquiries - then repeat the formats the audience proves it wants.

Before anything is published

The original Altivon report correctly required technical approval for specifications, certifications and application statements. That rule becomes even more important when content is designed for larger reach.

- Altivon must approve every numerical specification, product grade, certification, lab/test statement, shelf-life claim, application claim and country-specific requirement before publishing.
- Do not show certificate logos or claim compliance just because a supplier has discussed it. Use only current, verified documents approved for marketing.
- Do not imply Altivon owns a farm, factory or laboratory unless that is factually true.
- Do not show real buyer names, phone numbers, email addresses, quotations or private conversations without permission.
- Country-specific content should be framed as buyer considerations / available information unless a qualified professional has confirmed a legal requirement.
- If a Reel uses a hypothetical example (price cards, sample box, mock buyer message), make sure the visuals cannot be mistaken for an actual buyer transaction.

Approval workflow

Step	Owner	Action	Output
1	Evolix	Writes hook, script and shot list.	Draft
2	Altivon	Checks factual/technical claims before filming.	Approved script
3	Altivon	Shoots the requested clips and sends originals.	Raw footage
4	Evolix	Edits, captions, designs cover and post copy.	Draft creative
5	Altivon	Final technical/commercial approval.	Approved asset
6	Evolix	Publishes and monitors initial performance.	Live post
7	Altivon + Evolix	Weekly review: winners, weak hooks, buyer questions, next iterations.	Next actions

APPENDIX

Source foundation & creative expansion

Source-derived foundation: This playbook builds on the existing “Altivon Global - 30-Day Organic Content Calendar” prepared by Evolix Studio. That calendar established the core content pillars (product intelligence, quality/proof, buyer education, founder/process, country/conversion), recurring buyer themes, approval workflow and measurement approach.

Creative expansion by Evolix: The 12 Reel concepts, home-shooting system, hooks, scripts, shot lists, edit directions, cover lines, static poster ideas and 4-week publishing mix in this document are a revised creative strategy designed for a efficient phone-first production environment.

USAGE NOTE Treat this as a production playbook. Before each shoot, Evolix should extract only the 3-4 Reel sheets being filmed that week so Altivon has a short, practical checklist instead of the full report.

Fast shoot-day checklist

- Charge phone + free storage.
- Clean lens.
- Set vertical 9:16.
- Prepare product samples and props.
- Print/stage any mock sheets before filming.
- Choose quiet room + window light.
- Record hooks first while energy is high.
- Record each important line twice.
- Capture 20-30 extra B-roll clips.
- Upload originals at full quality to Evolix.